1. We were most happy to receive the miniature propaganda booklet enclosed with reference dispatch. The ingenuity and initiative displayed in obtaining this item are to be commended.
2. We should appreciate any information which you may be able to develop on the actual effectiveness of this piece of propaganda and related materials employed in the same general area. Such information will guide us in the extent to which we devote our own efforts in this field.

3. In this same connection, □ did a good job in the interrogation report covered by your KOW-A-47. The ideas contained therein are being given most serious consideration. As you will appreciate, certain of the proposals which were made by the interrogated --and particularly certain of the personalities which he mentioned in connection with them-- require policy decisions which can not be arrived at quickly
